INTRODUCTION

The Eswatini General Certificate of Secondary Education (EGCSE) syllabuses are designed as two-year courses for examination in Form 5. The Literature in English syllabus recognises that the majority of learners in Eswatini are reading literature in a second language and their proficiency in the language may be at different levels. The syllabus assumes that learners have been through a Junior Secondary programme of literature learning. Learners' needs and the strategies available to teachers may vary greatly from area to area and within any class; but in all cases the Literature in English Syllabus must encourage appreciation of works of art, making learners realise the importance of aesthetics in understanding human behaviour in all its diversity. Suggested resource materials can be located in the teaching syllabus document.

All EGCSE syllabuses follow a general pattern. The main sections are:

Aims
Assessment Objectives
Assessment
Curriculum Content

Literature in English is an elective subject and falls into the Social Sciences and Humanities Field of Study which includes: Development Studies, French, Geography, History, and Religious Education.

The rationale to teach Literature in English is as follows:

- promote a culture of reading;
- equip learners with a functional literacy in English;
- help and encourage learners to develop reading and critical skills;
- open learners' minds to ways of life beyond their immediate environment;
- assist learners to develop personally and socially.

AIMS

The aims of the syllabus are the same for all learners. The aims are set out below and describe the educational purposes of a course in Literature in English for the EGCSE Examination. They are not listed in order of priority.

The aims are to enable learners to:

1. enjoy the experience of reading;
2. understand and respond to literary texts in different forms and from different cultures including their own;
3. communicate an informed personal response appropriately and effectively;
4. appreciate different ways in which writers achieve their effects;
5. experience literature's contribution to aesthetic, imaginative and intellectual growth;
6. explore the contribution of literature to an understanding of areas of human concern.
7. Form a sound base of appropriate linguistic and literary analytical skills for purposes of further study and employment.

While the approach aims at a higher level of proficiency in the reading of literature, the teaching methodology acknowledges that the majority of learners in Eswatini are reading literature in a second language. Learners are faced with the following challenges:

- Appreciating a text in a language that is not their own.
- Appreciating unfamiliar historical, social and cultural contexts.
- Displaying appropriate linguistic and literary analytical skills.

In view of the above, the teaching of Literature in English should ensure: a holistic appreciation of literature, including the language aspect; learners' appreciation of the historical, social and cultural backgrounds of the texts studied; and an inclusion, in the syllabus, of local texts.

ASSESSMENT OBJECTIVES

A description of the Assessment Objectives (AO) in Literature in English follows:

Learners should be able to:

- A01 show detailed knowledge of the content of literary texts in the three main forms (drama, poetry, and prose);
- A02 show that they understand the meanings of literary texts and their contexts, and explore texts beyond surface meanings to show a deeper awareness of ideas and attitudes;
- A03 recognise and appreciate ways in which writers use language, structure, and form to create and shape meanings and effects;
- A04 communicate a sensitive and informed personal response to literary texts.

ASSESSMENT

Scheme of Assessment

All papers are compulsory. Candidates must enter for Papers 1 (Set Texts: Closed Books) and 2 (Unseen Text) and are eligible for the award of Grades A* to G.

A description of each paper follows.

Paper 1 Set Texts: Closed Books (2 hours 15 minutes) total 60 marks.

The paper consists of three sections. Section A: drama, Section B: poetry, and Section C: prose. Candidates must answer one question from each section.

Candidates must answer at least one passage-based question and at least one essay or 'empathic' question. All questions carry equal marks.

On each set text there will be a choice of three questions:

For each poetry text, there will be one passage-based question, and two essay questions.

For each drama and prose text, there will be one passage-based question, one essay question, and one 'empathic' question.

All questions will encourage an informed personal response, and are designed to test all the Assessment Objectives. In practical terms this means that candidates will be asked to demonstrate:

- a personal response: sometimes directly (for example, 'What do you think?', 'What are your feelings about...?') and sometimes by implication (for example, 'Explore the ways in which...');
- knowledge of the text through the use of close reference to details and use of quotations from it;
- understanding of characters, their roles, relationships, situations and themes;
- appreciation of the writer's techniques, methods, and language use.

[Empathic tasks (sometimes known as 'empathetic' or 'creative response' tasks) address the same Assessment Objectives as the essay and passage-based questions. They are intended to test knowledge, understanding and response; but they give the candidate the opportunity to engage more imaginatively with the text, by the assumption of a suitable 'voice', i.e. manner of speaking, for the character concerned.]

This is a closed book paper and so candidates may NOT take their set texts into the examination room. For the passage-based questions, the passage is printed on the question paper.

This paper will be weighted at 70% of the final total available marks.

Paper 2 Unseen Text (1 hour 20 minutes) total 20 marks.

The paper consists of two questions, each requiring a critical commentary and appreciation of previously unseen writing printed on the question paper.

One of the questions will be based on a literary prose passage (for example, an extract from a novel or short story); the other question will be based on a poem or an extract of a poem.

Candidates must answer one question.

It is recommended that candidates spend about 20 minutes reading the question paper and planning their answer. This is included in the time allowed for the paper.

This paper will be weighted at 30% of the final total available marks.

GRADE DESCRIPTIONS

The scheme of assessment is intended to encourage positive achievement by all candidates. Grade descriptions are provided to give a general indication of the standards of achievement likely to have been shown by awarded grades. The grade awarded will depend on the extent to which the candidate has met the assessment objectives overall. Candidates are awarded grades holistically based on a 'best fit' approach and may display weaknesses in one aspect of the examination which are balanced out by strengths in their performance overall.

Criteria for the standard of achievement likely to have been shown by candidates awarded Grades A, C and F are shown below.

Grade A candidates will have demonstrated the ability to:

- sustain a perceptive and convincing response with well chosen detail of narrative and situation;
- demonstrate clear critical/analytical understanding of the author's intentions and the text's deeper implications and the attitudes it displays;
- make much well selected reference to the text;
- respond sensitively and in detail to the way language works in the text;
- communicate a considered and reflective personal response to the text.

Grade C candidates will have demonstrated the ability to:

- make a reasonably sustained/extended response with detail of narrative and situation;
- show understanding of the author's intentions and some of the text's deeper implications and the attitudes it displays;
- show some thoroughness in use of the text for support;
- communicate an informed personal response to the text.

Grade F candidates will have demonstrated the ability to:

- make a few straightforward points in terms of narrative and situation;
- show a few signs of understanding of the author's intentions and the surface meanings of the text;
